

Health and Safety Disclaimer for The Buz Box LLC

Effective Date: 10/16/2024

Intended Use of Products

The adult products and toys sold on TheBuzBox.com are designed for personal use only and are intended for adult customers 18 years of age or older. By purchasing or using these products, you agree that you are of legal age and understand the intended purpose and recommended usage of each product.

Health and Safety Precautions

At The Buz Box LLC, we prioritize your health and safety. Please read and follow all product instructions, warnings, and guidelines provided by the manufacturer before using any items purchased from our Website. Misuse of these products may pose health risks, and The Buz Box LLC is not responsible for any injuries or adverse effects resulting from improper use.

Consultation with Health Professionals

The Buz Box LLC recommends that customers consult with a licensed healthcare provider or medical professional if they have any health concerns or pre-existing conditions that could be impacted by the use of adult products. This is particularly relevant for individuals with sensitivities, allergies, or other health considerations.

Product Hygiene and Maintenance

To ensure your safety, always clean and sanitize products before and after each use, following the manufacturer's guidelines. We strongly recommend using personal lubricants, cleansers, and other accessories that are compatible with the material of your chosen products. Failure to properly clean or maintain products can lead to bacterial growth or other health risks.

Disclaimer of Liability

The Buz Box LLC, its affiliates, and its suppliers assume no responsibility for any injury, condition, or adverse reaction resulting from the use or misuse of products sold on this Website. By purchasing and using our products, you accept all responsibility for health and safety outcomes. Use of these products is entirely at the user's own risk.

No Medical Claims

The Buz Box LLC does not provide medical advice, and our products are not intended to diagnose, treat, cure, or prevent any medical condition. Any statements on this Website or product descriptions are for informational purposes only and are not a substitute for professional medical advice, diagnosis, or treatment.

Contact Us

For questions regarding product use, health, and safety, please contact us at support@thebuzbox.com. We encourage customers to reach out with any questions before using products to ensure a safe and satisfactory experience.

This Health and Safety Disclaimer is intended to clarify The Buz Box LLC's stance on safe product use and limit liability for improper use. Always consult with a legal professional to confirm that your disclaimers are fully compliant with relevant laws and regulations.